

New Cleopatra 33 delivered to Ireland

Watermota, the UK and Ireland agents for Icelandic boat builder Trefjar Ltd, sold and delivered this month the Cleopatra 33 fish boat to Dublin, Ireland for Robert Creedon, a fisherman who will be the new vessel's skipper.

Kaligarian J. is based on the proven standard Cleopatra 33 hull design. The main engine, supplied by Watermota, is a Doosan L086 connected to a ZF 302IV1.77:1 gearbox.

Kaligarian uses electronics package from Furuno and Simrad supplied by Barry electronics in Killybegs Co. in Donegal, Ireland and is fitted for potting, concentrating on Whelk potting, but also for brown crab part of the year. Swan Gundry in Ireland supplied the safety gear.

The fish hold is designed to take 63pcs of standard fish boxes. Forward cabin is fitted in teak to a high specification. It also has bunks for three people.
